

DRIVING SIMULATION PROCEEDINGS

CALL FOR PAPERS

Driving Simulation Proceedings

The journal aims to support the research in driving simulation in all its aspects.

The Driving Simulation Proceedings, an online scientific journal, indexed by Scopus, publishes papers submitted from 2016 and is open now for continuous scientific paper submissions.

Topics include, but are not limited to, state of the art in driving simulation technology, research and developments, virtual reality with a large place for simulation of autonomous and connected vehicles along with advanced driving assistance system (ADAS) applications. Human factors and motion rendering are the traditional axis of the journal. Two issues are published per year.

TIMELINE

Submissions open	15 Jul. 2022
Deadline for submission	15 Oct. 2022
Publication of accepted papers	15 March. 2023

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

Detailed information about submission procedure and review process will be provided on the journal website:

Guidelines for authors

Review Process

PROCEEDINGS

Final accepted papers will be published in the Driving Simulation Proceedings.

EDITORIAL BOARD

Chief Editor:

Andras Kemeny Driving Simulation Association, Arts et Métiers Institute of Technology (France)

Associate Editors:

Jean-Rémy Chardonnet Arts et Métiers Institute of Technology (France)

Florent Colombet Driving Simulation Association (France)

Stéphane Espié University of Gustave Eiffel (France)

Frédéric Mérienne Arts et Métiers Institute of Technology (France)

Editorial Board

Klaus Bengler Technical University Munich, (Germany)

Jelte Bos TNO, (The Netherlands)

Heinrich H. Bühlhoff Max Planck Institute (Germany)

Frank Cardullo State University of New York (USA)

Viola Cavallo Gustave Eiffel University (France)

Joseph K. Kearney University of Iowa (USA)

Franck Mars

Philippe Mathieu

James Oliver

Paolo Pretto

Richard Romano

CNRS (France)

University of Lille (France)

University of Iowa (USA)

The Virtual Vehicle (Austria)

University of Leeds (United Kingdom)